DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(c) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Stieler et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,846,279). The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Stieler discloses exactly the claimed invention as clearly shown in Figs. 1 and 2 and disclosed by the claims (columns 5-8). Note that the electric motor 25 responsible of driving members 29 and 30 of the folding cylinder 4, which broadly could be considered as meeting the limitations of "the dedicated electric motor driving only said second cylinder".

Claims 1-20 directed to the same invention as that of claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,846,279 of commonly assigned Man Roland Druckmaschinen AG. The issue of priority under 35 U.S.C. 102(g) and possibly 35 U.S.C. 102(f) of this single invention must be resolved.

Since the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office normally will not institute an interference between applications or a patent and an application of common ownership (see MPEP Chapter 2300), the assignee is required to state which entity is the prior inventor of the conflicting subject matter. A terminal disclaimer has no effect in this situation since the basis for refusing more than one patent is priority of invention under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) and not an extension of monopoly.

Failure to comply with this requirement will result in a holding of abandonment of this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Alternatively, claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stielor et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,846,279) in view of Gotz et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,610,491).

Stielor discloses exactly the claimed invention as clearly shown in Figs. 1 and 2 and disclosed by the claims (columns 5-8).

Stielor may not disclose a dedicated electric motor driving only the second cylinder. However, Gotz discloses a similar rotary press with the use of different motors to control different rotaries/cylinders as clearly seen in Figs. 1 and 4; via motors F and G to control different rotaries (Abstract).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Stieler's rotary press by the use of different motors to control different cylinders, as suggested by Gotz, in order to utilize fast signal processing features for driving driving the rotors (column 2, lines 56-61).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
